

DANIEL MORGAN

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF NATIONAL SECURITY

May 19, 2020

Congratulations to the Class of 2020, and the final graduating class of the Daniel Morgan Graduate School of National Security.

DMGS has transcended a particularly difficult year, and I commend the Class of 2020. You have completed your requirements among mounting global difficulties and personal challenges. Your theses have demonstrated your abilities and announce your diversity of interest and knowledge. Whether you are returning to your country of origin to provide your service there or remaining in the US to offer your services here, you are prepared.

It has been my honor to lead such a prestigious institution as DMGS as it earned its accreditation and as it advanced and developed future leaders. It has been an uphill climb to achieve your goals, but you have succeeded and excelled. Your future foretells endless possibilities, and you will fulfill your goals. I applaud your achievement.
