

Congratulations! Completing a rigorous graduate program is a significant accomplishment. You and your fellow classmates should take great pride in the work you completed during your time at Daniel Morgan. The faculty and staff are confident that the DMGS programs will prepare you for successful careers in both the public and private sector. For those students I had the privilege of working with, whether in class or as part of your thesis committee, I want to express my gratitude for your hard work and dedication. I look forward to hearing about your future accomplishments. If there's anything I can do to assist you, don't hesitate to reach out. In the meantime, take some time to enjoy this moment.

Professor Gary Ross